LIGHT DAWNING.

Some Hope That the Senate Will Soon Do Something.

VOTING ON THE REPEAL BILL.

Speechmaking to Be Expedited and but a Few More Senators Will Be Heard. The Members Getting Anxious to Get Out of Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—The prospect at the close of the session yesterday evening looked favorable to the beginning of voting on the amendments to the repeal bill by Friday. Senator Faulkner had been canvassing the senate during the afternoon with a view of asking the senate to fix a time when the vote could be taken, but concluded not to make this request for the reason that he was of the opinion after getting the views of various senators that the speechmaking would be expedited by allowing the business to drift.

The result of Mr. Faulkner's inquiries was the discovery that the speeches on the main question would soon be exhausted. Senator Jones concluded today, and Senators Teller, Martin, Allen and Stewart each desire to talk from an hour to an hour and a half. So far as learned there will be no other speeches, and when the last of these shall have been concluded the voting will be the next thing in order.

Later inquiry confirms the prediction heretofore made that some of the amendments will receive a sufficient vote to ensure adoption, and it is possible that none of them will receive as high a vote as will be recorded in opposition to the bill. The reason for this statement is found in the fact that the silver men do not expect any of them to carry and therefore consider it unnecessary to attempt to have any of them adopted.

There is still some talk to the effect that some of the more conservative repealers would be willing to aid in preventing unconditional repeal by voting for some of the amendments, but a majority of the free coinage men are of the opinion that nothing can be agreed upon that would be advantageous to silver, and many of them now announce their intention of voting only for the free coinage amendment, and of giving no countenance to any of the other amendments.

This program is, of course, subject to change, as so many other programs have changed in the past few weeks.

The Republicans have abandoned all idea of introducing an amendment as a party measure. Mr. Sherman had at one time thought it would be wise policy on the part of the Republicans to offer a measure for the settlement of the question, but he says now he doubts the expediency of interfering in any way with the passage of the repeal bill as it stands. He thinks that authority should be given for bonds, but sees the difficulty of getting such a provision through at this time and will in all probability not attempt it.

The repeal Republicans say that to introduce a bond amendment at this time would certainly bring on debate, which might prove interminable and result in the defeat of the bill. The stories which have been sent out from here stating a purpose to present a bond amendment have therefore back of them only the belief in Mr. Sherman's part that such an amendment would be desirable if it could be adopted or if it could be offered without endangering the main question.

It is believed that if the voting on the amendments can be begun early in the session Friday the final vote can be reached by Saturday at the latest and the bill sent to the house of representatives for its action.

When the house shall have acted upon the bill, adjournment until the beginning of the regular session on the first Monday in December will be in order. There is very little doubt now that this adjournment will be taken, although the Democratic managers of the senate have not yet given the subject sufficient consideration to feel justified in making an official announcement. They have been in conference with Speaker Crisp of the house, who advises adjournment when the repeal bill shall be disposed of.

So general is the desire on the part of senators and members to get away that it would be next to impossible to hold a quorum of either house in Washington, even should it be attempted. It was at one time believed that there would be an effort to pass the bill for the extension of the Chinese exclusion act, but that probability has been averted. Senator Perkins of California, who has taken an active interest in this matter, as has also his Democratic colleague, Mr. White, has asked the members of the committee on foreign relations to postpone their report upon this bill until Mr. White shall be able to be in the senate and take part in the discussion, and he is led to believe that the request will be granted. As Mr. White is detained in California by important business, it is more than likely that the bill will not be reported until the convening of the regular session.

Mr. Perkins says there is sufficient of the appropriation carried by the Geary law to send the Highlanders and Chinese gamblers out of the country and he thinks there will be no great injury to any one if they should be exported before the proposed change in the law is made.

A Lost Strike.

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 26.—Nearly all streetcars are running, but with great irregularity. The strikers recognize the fact that they are beaten, but keep up an ugly fight.

"FOR RENT—FURNISHED."

This Sign Now Decorates the Blaine Mansion, Washington.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 26.—"For Rent—Furnished." These words, in large black letters, adorn the sign of a well-known real estate firm, pendant from a three foot stick which is driven into the ground immediately in front of the old red brick residence which was until recently occupied by the foremost American citizen. The "Blaine mansion" has been abandoned by the family, and will doubtless soon be occupied by someone who never knew the "Plumed Knight." It is a solemn-looking old red three-story-and-attic structure next the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and Lafayette square, a single door and alley south of Senator Don Cameron's residence, formerly occupied by Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll, and immediately adjoining the ground where the department of justice stands, and but a half block to the northeast of the White House grounds. One would not think from a glance at this dingy-looking old rectangular building with black doors and window frames that only a few months ago it was the cynosure of the entire civilized world, being the private residence of James Gillespie Blaine. The early frosts of autumn have caused the leaves on the great trees in front of the building to carpet the sidewalk and the narrow grass plot in front, while cobwebs have been woven like network across the upper windows and seem to have lashed the old fashioned wooden shutters on the lower story. The sidewalk curves in at the entrance and extends up to the door, which is broad and low and plain. There is a long narrow piece of lawn running upon either side of the house to the stable in the rear. The property is very old, the house one of the most ancient in the city and is painfully plain. Mrs. Blaine recently refused nearly $100,000 cash for it, which would have netted a handsome profit on the investment. The old mansion has a solemn and deserted-looking appearance, and the surroundings seem to join the people in mourning its departed occupant.

A WAR MONSTER.

The New United States Cruiser Oregon a Wonder.

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 26.—Today is to be made memorable in naval annals by the launching of another great American cruiser, the Oregon. She ranks with the English cruiser Blake, 9,000 tons; the Russian cruiser Pamiatie Azova, 6,000 tons; and the Argentine cruiser Nueva de Julio, 3,500 tons, all of whom have about the same dimensions—from 350 to 388 feet in length and from 44 to 65 feet in breadth, as compared to the Oregon's 348 feet of length and 60 feet of breadth.

In armament the Oregon will far outstrip any of the batteries of the above. She will carry four 12-inch, four 8-inch, and four 6-inch breech-loading rifles, 16 6-pounder and six 1-pounder rapid-firing guns and two gatlings, besides 12 torpedoes, 7 above water. Now almost the heaviest battery carried by any foreign cruiser is that of the Russian fleet, which carries two 12-inch, four 9-inch, eight 6-inch, ten 3-pounders, four machine guns and six torpedo tubes.

The Oregon has been building at the Union Iron works here. She will be christened by Miss Daisy Ainsworth, living near Oakland.

Miss Ruth Dolph, daughter of Senator Dolph, will represent the navy at the launching, and Miss Eugenia Shelby of the city of Portland.

BOGUS SILVER DOLLARS.

West Virginia Towns Flooded With Counterfeit Money.

WHEELING, Oct. 26.—It has been discovered that West Virginia towns have been flooded with thousands of counterfeit silver dollars. The bogus money has the true ring but is a little over weight and perceptibly larger in diameter. The milling is not perfect, but so nearly so that it would take an expert to detect the difference. The people appear perfectly willing to take them, although aware that they were not minted by the government.

There is no clew to the manufacturers of the spurious coin (if a coin composed of more than the legal amount of silver can be called spurious) but the money appears to have gotten through legitimate trade channels. The question with the people who have taken the stuff is, upon what ground can the treasury department condemn the money? The enterprise was probably started in response to oft-repeated newspaper suggestions that silver dollars of the same weight and fineness as those made by the government could be made at a profit of 40 to 45 cents on the dollar.

White Caps in Arkansas.

FORT SMITH, Ark., Oct. 26.—White Caps have struck this county and as a result many cottoning have suspended operations. The southwestern portion of the county seems to be their headquarters. Notices are posted on gin doors at night, warning the proprietors that if they continue to gin cotton at its present market value, they must suffer the consequences. In several instances these warnings have been the means of the gins shutting down. Notwithstanding this, cotton is poured into this market at a lively rate, 500 bales having been received.

Explosion in a Tunnel.

CHICAGO, Oct. 26.—An explosion of dynamite occurred in the Hyde park tunnel. Six men were rendered unconscious but all subsequently recovered. The men were descending to work in the shaft when their lanterns ignited the gas and the explosion occurred. The noise of the explosion was heard by the workmen above, who immediately notified the police by telephone. Several patrol wagons and an ambulance were hurried to the scene and the work of rescue was begun.

FIGHT WITH BURGLARS.

One of the Thieves Killed and a Sheriff Wounded.

ANDERSON, Ind., Oct. 26.—Amos Coburn, deputy sheriff of this county, was shot at Snmmitville by burglars. Considerable robbing has been going on at that place lately, and a plan was laid to catch the guilty parties.

It was learned that they would attempt an entrance to a dry goods store. Sheriff Vanduyke and Deputy Coburn went over. They were secreted in the store, and about 1 o'clock the robbers made their appearance. There were four of them, and no sooner had they entered than Coburn covered them with two revolvers and ordered them to surrender.

There was a flash, and Coburn had a bullet in his side. He began firing and sent seven bullets into Dick Gooden, one of the men. Gooden will die.

Tom Mays, another of the robbers, was captured. The other two, it is thought, will be caught. Coburn's wound is not thought to be serious.

TWO COUNTERFEITERS ARRESTED.

One Bound Over and the Other's Trial Postponed.

KOKOMO, Ind., Oct. 26.—Buck Hartan, an ex-convict of three penitentiaries, and Steve Rinebolt were arrested in this city by United States officers on a warrant charging them with counterfeiting. In an examination before Commissioner Elliott Rinebolt was held to a federal grand jury in the sum of $1,000 and Hartan's examination was continued to Nov. 8. He was jailed, however, on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

Hartan is a brother-in-law of the notorious Bob Hawkins and is considered an all round bad man. He has done two terms for counterfeiting and one for burglary. He is believed to be the leader of a gang of dangerous counterfeiters who have been working in this vicinity for some time.

Swears in Two Languages.

COLUMBUS, Ind., Oct. 26.—John J. Schrader, a German, aged 87, and charged jointly with 11 other relatives with unmercifully whipping his daughter-in-law, Mrs. Andrew Schrader, was placed on the witness stand. He created a sensation by getting mad and swearing in two languages. Neither his friends nor the court could restrain him. When the officials went to arrest him in the right he threw salt in their eyes, struck one with a hatchet, and escaped through an upstairs window jumping 15 feet to the ground. This is the fifth day of the White Cap trial, and the defense is weak.

Dempsey Not Pardoned.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 26.—The petitions for pardon of Hugh L. Dempsey and Robert Beatty, convicted of poisoning nonunion men at Hemstead during the great strike last year, were taken up by the board of pardons at Harrisburg yesterday, and, after consideration, were refused. Dempsey and Beatty are now in the Riverside penitentiary. Another effort will be made by the executive board of the Knights of Labor to secure Dempsey's release.

Big Damage Suit.

ST. CLAIRSVILLE, O., Oct. 26.—The big damage suit of Koehnlein Brothers of Bridgeport, against the Cleveland and Pittsburgh railroad, is on trial here. The suit is for $5,000 damages for property supposed to have been destroyed by a fire starting from a spark from an engine. If the suit is won it is likely that several other suits will be brought by residents of Martin's Ferry and Bridgeport for like damages.

Bridge Worker Killed.

BROOKLYN, Ind., Oct. 26.—The center section of a bridge being erected over White river at Henderson ford, two miles from here, gave way, killing J. V. Beels of this place instantly. He was 26 and had been married about three months. He fell 60 feet. W. E. Pilson of Daleville, Ind., was internally injured; Marion Spone was badly bruised, while Albert Harvey was terribly injured on the hip.

Prize Fight and a Riot.

FRANKFORT, Ind., Oct. 26.—Billy Manning of St. Paul and Walter Gamble of this city fought a prize fight for a $200 purse at Clark's Hill. The mill was decided a draw at the close of 25 brutal rounds. After the fight occurred a riot, in which three or four people and the town marshal were severely injured. Three arrests were made.

Embezzlement Charged.

MITCHELL, Ind., Oct. 26.—Lemuel Conlter of Georgia, an extensive dealer in fertilizers, was arrested here at the instance of J. P. Thomasen & Company of Philadelphia, charged with embezzling $3,000. Coulter gave a mortgage on one of his farms for the amount and was released.

Thrown From His Buggy.

WILMINGTON, O., Oct. 26.—L. J. Walker, a prominent attorney of this place, met with a serious accident while out driving, being thrown from his buggy. He was rendered unconscious for some time, and is seriously bruised.

Four Men Drowned.

PARRY SOUND, Ont., Oct. 26.—William Lynch, J. Douglass, Marciase Woods and John Sweet, four lumbermen from Simcoe county, were drowned in Moon river yesterday afternoon. Sweet's body was recovered.

Lady's Hand Blown Off.

Fatally Slashed.

MONTPELIER, Ind., Oct. 26.—William Taylor of Muncie was fatally stabbed by James Duffie during a quarrel here.

NOVEL CARRIER.

A Dog Trained to Do Many Useful Things.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ind., Oct. 26.—A unique newspaper and mailcarrier has charge of the route at Watson, near this city, and meets the train every evening to receive the papers as they are thrown from the baggage car. It is a dog, a fine, large Newfoundland, belonging to Mrs. Gilligan, postmistress at that place, and named Mack.

When the trains pass the roadcrossing, where Mack stations himself, they go at full speed, and sometimes the bundles burst open, putting the dog to a great deal of inconvenience, but he always successfully gathers up every paper or letter, no matter how they are scattered, and carries them to the post-office, several squares distant.

Mack knows the whistle of every train, and can, under no circumstances, be induced to meet a southbound train going toward Jeffersonville; but at 3 o'clock, when the northbound train, carrying the papers, passes the place, Mack can not be kept in the house, and his delight in doing his duty is manifested always by a few jumps and a frisky movement before he gathers up his bundle for delivery. He is probably the only mailcarrier in the United States of his kind.

TATE TAKEN.

Kentucky's Absconding Treasurer Arrested in Arizona.

LITTLE ROCK, Oct. 26.—Phil H. McHenry, a well known Arkansas traveling man, has just arrived here over the Cotton Belt railroad and states that "Dick" Tate, the defaulting ex-treasurer of Kentucky, was on board in charge of two officers—a sheriff and detective—en route for Kentucky. Tate was in irons. He was captured 60 miles from Yuma, A. T. The officers refused to talk, says the informant, except to state that their capture was worth $25,000 to them, the reward now standing for his capture.

J. W. Tate, known to all Kentuckians as "Uncle Dick," was treasurer of the state of Kentucky for 22 years and his name was a synonym for honesty. In 1888 the state legislature demanded an investigation of his office and he was found due the state $100,000. He had invested the money in coal lands and whisky. He immediately left his family and friends and had not been heard of since. When the shortage was found the old bondsmen had been released and the new bondsmen had not qualified, and the shortage is still pending in the Franklin circuit court.

WILL STOP PRIZE FIGHTING.

No More Battles in Indiana if the Governor Can Prevent It.

INDIANAPOLIS, Oct. 26.—Governor Matthews has decided to stop prize fighting in Indiana if it is possible to do so. He has received a communication from Fisher's Station where the brutal Evans-Johnson mill took place, asking if prosecution is possible.

The governor replied that it was and urged the owners to carry the affair into the court. The governor has been notified that a new athletic club was organizing in northern Indiana, and has requested the secretary of state to incorporate it until it could be learned if the state can refuse legal life to such an organization. The question is a judicial one which will have to be determined in the court.

Good News to Miners.

PITTSBURG, Oct. 26.—The railroad coal operators of the Pittsburgh district have decided not to make any change in the mining rate until the expiration of the interstate scale in January, 1894, but will not enter into another agreement. The conclusion not to reduce wages is good news to over 4,000 miners, as they were fearful of a general wage cut to 74 cents per ton.

Violated Civil Service Laws.

LOUISVILLE, Oct. 26.—Walter P. Shaw, ex-deputy under collector Scott, was found guilty in the United States court yesterday of violating the civil service statute making it unlawful for a government employee to solicit money for political purposes. The jury was out only 20 minutes and the interest manifested was intense.

Wife Murderer to Hang.

OTTAWA, Ill., Oct. 26.—Yesterday in the Painter murder case of Chicago the verdict of the lower court was affirmed. George H. Painter murdered his wife, Alice, in Chicago on May 18, 1891. Feb. 9, of the following year, he was found guilty of the crime and sentenced to be hanged. The execution is set for Dec. 15.

Not Guilty.

MILWAUKEE, Oct. 26.—John B. Koetting, cashier of the defunct South Side Savings bank, was taken before the municipal court, and arraigned on 10 indictments, which the grand jury had returned against him. To each of these indictments he pleaded not guilty.

Grand Juror Goes Insane.

SPRINGFIELD, O., Oct. 26.—W. L. Douglass, a member of the grand jury, went violently insane yesterday and attempted the life of ex-Sheriff Baker. The validity of the indictments returned by the grand jury is in question.

Stabbed in the Side.

WILMINGTON, O., Oct. 26.—During a game of pool a fight occurred, in which Ed Smith received a serious stab in the side. Charles Jones, colored, was arrested for the deed. He claims to live in Pittsburg.

Rev. Dr. Samuel Haddaway, chaplain of the house of representatives, is lying at the point of death at his home in Washington.

August Malson and Noel Breyse, two alleged anarchists, are on trial in Pittsburg for the murder of Sophia Raes at Calamity, Pa.

SECOND CONFESSION

HE ALONE RESPONSIBLE FOR IT.

He Says He Killed the Entire Family and Gives Details of His Bloody Work—A Cornknife and Child's Ax the Weapons Used.

WASHINGTON, Ind., Oct. 26.—James Stone, commonly called "Budd," has made a second confession. This time he completely exonerates the parties whom he implicated in the first confession in the Wratten murder on Sunday morning. Just after Stone had made his first confession he was taken to Jeffersonville for safe keeping. Yesterday he stated to Deputy Prosecutor Hastings that his first confession was in the main untrue; that he alone was guilty of the atrocious crime and that he had no accomplice. He says that he and Martin Yarber last summer spoke of robbing the house, but that Yarber backed down.

Following is the astounding story of how he committed the deed: Arming himself with a small ax and a corn knife, he proceeded to the house at 10 o'clock. He looked in at the window and there saw Mr. Wratten roaming about in her night gown, ministering to the wants of her sick husband, who was down with typhoid fever. He then knocked at the door and Mrs. Wratten coming to open it, he informed her that he had a case of violent toothache and asked her if she could not furnish him with some panacea. Mrs. Wratten informed him that she had some Wizard oil and as she brought it to him, he struck her to the floor with the corn knife. He then rushed into the room where Mr. Wratten and the children were. Ethel Wratten, the 11-year-old girl, who survived the terrible blow she received that night for several days, first awoke and recognizing the midnight assailant, exclaimed, "Budd Stone, what are you doing here?"

Hardly had she uttered the words when he struck her down with the ax. He then turned to the poor helpless patient and struck him a fatal blow on the forehead; next he turned his attention to the small children, both of which he killed outright. In the room of old Mrs. Wratten there was no light, and as no noise was heard within, he supposed her to be sound asleep. He tried the door that led from Mr. Wratten's room to hers, but he could not force it. He then went around the house and forced the window by breaking it in with his heel. Here a terrible struggle ensued, for the old lady was as strong as in her prime. In attempting to ward off the blows both her arms were broken and one of them nearly severed from the body. But she soon yielded with a terrible scream that could be heard a half mile.

He now passed through the rooms in which his other victims lay. Mr. and Mrs. Wratten were both still living, but delirious. He gave them the final blow, which sent both into eternity. He then concealed the instruments of death in a woods near by where they have, since his confession, been found. Stone did not get any money, in fact, he says, after the tragedy he did not care for money. "Stone then went home, took a change of clothes, hid his trousers between the plastering and weatherboarding of his house and then went to the spring, where he attempted to wash the bloodstains from his shirt.

He was the first at the Wratten home-stand the next day and gave the alarm of the murder. He was a pallbearer at the funeral and assisted the undertaker in dressing the bodies for burial, in fact, he made himself generally useful the day after the murder at the Wratten house. He says that he has been forgiven by the Lord for the deed and is a happy man. He wrote the following letter to his wife and children yesterday:

Dear Cecilia, Sallie, Ezra and Harry: I don't think I will ever see your faces again. Raise these children to fear God. I can tell you that today I am happy in a Savior's love. I sought Christ yesterday evening and all last night. I have found Him precious to my soul, and am ready now to die, and I am a happy man. Please meet me in heaven, all of you. Tell Cecilia to write me soon as she gets this; that she done just right in telling the truth on me to the grand jury. She saved her soul and mine, too. Pray for me, Cecilia. Goodby. JAMES E. STONE.

It is reported that when the constable went to arrest Stone, he invited the constable in to family prayers after he said he would go with him. His wife has been brought to Washington for protection, as she feared violence from the notorious gang to which her husband belonged. It is fortunate for Stone that he is in Jeffersonville, or he would not last long.

LYNCHING TALKED OF.

WINFIELD, Kan., Oct. 26.—Much excitement prevails here over the unprovoked killing of Captain H. H. Sivard, an old settler well known throughout the state, and a lynching is not improbable. Captain Sivard, while acting as peace officer, undertook to arrest Morgan Wright, a young tough, and Kid Morton, a joint keeper. Both were intoxicated and creating a disturbance.

Before Sivard had proceeded far with the men, a gang of toughs congregated and a fight ensued. During the melee somebody, supposed to be Morton, fired a shot at Sivard. The latter fell to the sidewalk, dying almost instantly from a wound in the head. Other officers succeeded in placing Morton and Wright in jail. Excitement runs high and a lynching is openly talked of.

The Cincinnati Tribune continues to pour out "words of caution" to Ohio Republicans.

The Democrats of this Senatorial district should bestir themselves. The district is so close that it will require the full party vote to win.

The announcement of Mr. F. H. Traxel appears in this issue. He is a candidate for Councilman in the Third ward. He is one of Maysville's successful business men, and is thoroughly qualified for the position.

REPUBLICAN editors over in Ohio are devoting a good deal of their time now to calling Larry Neal and Bill Taylor liars. If the G. O. P. writers can't defend their cause in any better way, they should keep silent.

This country used nearly three-fourths of Great Britain's entire output of tinplate the past year. The farmers of the country would have been better off if agricultural products could have been exchanged for this tin.

THERE have been nearly one hundred lynchings in this country since the first of last January. This is a bad record. Why don't the courts and juries do their duty? A few legal hangings would lessen the number of lynchings.

CITY CLERK O'HARE is formally announced elsewhere as a candidate for re-election. No one better qualified for the position can be found. Sober, industrious and of excellent habits in every way, he can be relied upon for a faithful discharge of his official duties at all times.

THE New York World believes that the United States Senate needs about five minutes of the spirit of John Quincy Adams when he broke a stupid deadlock in the House by quietly saying: "I propose to put the question myself." He put it, and order came out of chaos. The majority ruled. The legislature legislated.

SENATOR BLACKBURN has heard from some more of that "Kentucky jury." At a mass meeting held at Versailles Monday a resolution was adopted indorsing the position of the administration in the matter of the Sherman Repeal bill and calling upon the Kentucky Senators to use their influence to bring about a vote in the Senate. Versailles is the home of Mr. Blackburn. "We view with regret and shame," so the resolutions read, "the effort of a minority of the Senate to prevent a vote on the bill." "Our Joe" ought to have interviewed his home folks before he made that speech against the measure.

A PLAIN STATEMENT.

The report of the Commissioner of Pensions for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1893, has just been completed, and it shows a pension roll containing 966,012 names, with 711,150 claims original and for increase to be acted upon, of which 119,361 original claims were filed during the year. The additions during the year were 123,634, while but 33,690 names were dropped from all causes—25,005 by death—and of these 1,029 were pensioners of the war of 1812. The pensions paid amounted to $156,740,467, exclusive of expenses.

"The general idea," says the New York World, "that the pension roll will soon reach its maximum is fallacious, and the opinion of the Commissioner that it will not increase after 1895 is a mere hope. It is only twenty-eight years since the war closed, and under the most favorable conditions and according to all experience that maximum will not be reached within forty years after, or 1905. Until that date and even after we may reasonably expect from his own figures that the number added each year will exceed those dropped.

"There were over 3,000,000 enlisted men, according to the revised lists, of whom over 2,000,000 are living to-day. Their widows, their children, their fathers and mothers and their dependent relatives greatly exceeded 4,000,000. Only 2,034,695 original applications have been made, of which 1,357,021 have been granted; but the claims of over half, perhaps three-fourths, pensionable under the present laws have not yet matured for filing. The pensions to be granted under the present law to the widows, children and dependent relatives of the 759,703 enlisted men now on the list cannot be applied for until they die. The number of widows and dependent relatives receiving pensions is now 209,306; but it is probable that we shall yet carry 1,200,000 on the rolls, unless some radical reforms shall be accomplished."

Kentucky Press Opinions.

Henderson Journal: "The 'rotten burroughs' of Nevada, Montana, Colorado and Wyoming, the silver diggin's, are powerful enough to lock the American House of Lords as tight as wax. Shame on the recalcitrant Senators from the Southern States of Alabama, Arkansas, Missouri and Tennessee that helped them turn the silver key."

Paducah News: "Mr. L. J. Cox is the Democratic nominee for Representative in Franklin County. Mr. Cox is a Lindsay man and was heavily handicapped in the race, being opposed by Judge Thos. H. Hines, who was the representative of the administration faction. The result is another conclusive proof that the people are for Senator Lindsay. If there was any life left in the Governor's Senatorial boom before, this election will prove the finishing touch. About the only supporters of the boom just now are Jack Gross, the Courier-Journal and the Governor himself."

Henry County Local: "When Senator Blackburn fired his blunderbuss in the Senate and declared himself against the Sherman repeal bill, everybody supposed he would use his influence to defeat the bill on a square vote, but nobody expected to see him sit by the silver Republicans and Populists and aid them in their effort to prevent any action at all. It is rather an unusual spectacle to see a Democratic Senator filibustering against a measure which not only presents the policy of the administration, but was passed by an overwhelming majority of the lower House. If Senator Blackburn is not willing for the majority to rule, or is not willing to submit to the majority rule in his own party, he has certainly ceased to be a Democrat, and it is time the Democrats of Kentucky were looking out for a man to succeed him."

The State Printing.

At a meeting Monday the Board of Sinking Fund Commissioners decided on the lowest and best bids for three classes of State printing. The Courier-Journal Job Printing Company gets the first and second class, including court reports and legislative and departmental reports. The third class goes to William Harrison, of the Bradley-Gilbert Company. It comprises county and other blank books.

No action was taken on the fourth class. It is estimated that the contract for the first and second class will amount to $100,000.

Ex-Confederate Physicians Barred.

A special from Washington says that all ex-Confederate surgeons and doctors who are applicants for appointment on Pension Examining Boards may as well withdraw their papers, for under a recruiting rule of the Pension Office ex-Confederates are ineligible for these positions. This rule will go hard with quite a number of Kentucky doctors who are desirous of being appointed on the Pension Examining Boards.

Valuation of Whisky For Assessment.

The State Board of Valuation, composed of the Auditor, Secretary of State and Treasurer, has fixed the taxable value of whisky in bond and subject to taxation for the ensuing year. The price fixed per barrel is $11, which is the same as was assessed a year ago, when the valuation was increased from $8 to $12, and the complaint of whisky men crowded it down $1 nearer the old water-mark.

Special Registration Days.

Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 30th, 31st and November 1st, are special registration days. Voters who were necessarily absent from the city on the regular registration day and those prevented from registering on account of sickness can have their names added to the lists by calling at the County Clerk's office on the dates named and complying with the law.

A FATAL SHOT.

The trouble occurred on a farm belonging to Messrs. Thomas A. and George C. Keith, of this city. There were no eye witnesses of the affray, but it was a case of self-defense on the part of Page, according to all reports.

Recently a boy named Tom Warren, living with Hubbard, either lost eleven dollars or the money was stolen from him. Hubbard and Warren came to Maysville and consulted an old fortune teller who informed them that a son of Page had the money.

Such is the origin of the trouble which led to the killing. The quarrel between the parties must have been rather bitter. On Tuesday afternoon Hubbard bought some cartridges for an old pistol he had about his home, and practiced shooting at targets about the place during the evening. Page heard of this and came to the conclusion that it meant further trouble for him.

Yesterday morning when he started to work he took an old musket along with him. He had not been gone very long before some shots were heard, and parties on going to the field found Hubbard lying on the ground fatally wounded.

Page's story is that Hubbard came to where he was shucking corn and renewed the quarrel. He was warned to leave by Page, who told him he did not want any more trouble. Instead of leaving, Hubbard pulled his pistol and commenced shooting. Page jumped behind the shock of corn and returned the fire.

Hubbard was shot over the right eye. The musket was loaded with No. 3's, and four of them penetrated the brain. He died some time during the afternoon.

The proprietor, Mr. Maxwell, was recently presented with a diamond set medal by the Union Commercial Travelers.

THE year 1893 will be noted as one of the most remarkable in this century for accidents, fatalities, fires, floods and suicides. Politics were never discussed so angrily; parties never disrupted so easily. We have had a panic in the money market; more failures in business than in any year since 1873; more family troubles and divorces than in any previous year. We have had cholera threatened, and yellow fever actually; the biggest fire and the greatest flood.

In his notes he has promised the BULLETIN an account of "doing" Midway Plaisance, with a brace of Chicago's lake-side "bloods."

MEDICAL MEETING.

Proceedings of the Northeastern Kentucky Association—The New Practice Act Endorsed.

"The Northeastern Kentucky Medical Association," which was organized at Flemingsburg last May, met in this city yesterday. The attendance was not as large as had been expected. The address of the President, Dr. Lucien McDowell, was excellent, and a number of interesting papers were read. The principal incident of public interest was the election of Dr. McCormack, of Bowling Green, to an honorary membership, and the passage (without debate) of a resolution endorsing his new "Medical Practice law." There were twenty-two members present, and about half of these responded when the question was put—the others not voting.

This city is represented in the association by Drs. Pangburn, Phillips, Cartmel, Adamson and Yazell, and there is one member from Ohio—Dr. Heaton, of Aberdeen.

The morning and afternoon sessions were held at the Grand Army headquarters (Cox Building); the evening banquet at the Central Hotel.

Dr. Adamson, of this city, was elected President, and Dr. J. W. Kincaid, of Catlettsburg, Vice-President.

The next meeting will be held at the Lower Blue Licks in May, 1894.

TRAINS WRECKED.

Several Disasters on Different Railroads.

DEATH AND DESTRUCTION.

A Derailed Freight Train Ran Into by a Passenger Train on the Pennsylvania Railroad—A Freight Train Jumps the Track—Battle Creek Victims Identified. Other Railroad Accidents.

TRENTON, Oct. 26.—Second section of the Chicago limited on the Pennsylvania railroad was wrecked near Lawrence station, shortly after 6 o'clock last night, by running into a derailed freight train. Three unknown tramps, who were stealing a ride on the freight train were killed and another named Edward McGonigle of Pittsburgh was badly injured.

Daniel Mahoney, the engineer, and Henry Matthews, the fireman of the limited, were badly injured. They stuck to their engine which was thrown on its side into a ditch and when picked up were unconscious. Ellis Green, a passenger, and J. C. Carter, William Willis, J. T. Gray, porter on three of the coaches which were derailed, were also slightly injured.

The wreckage was piled across the four tracks in such a manner as to stop all traffic until after midnight, and passengers for New York were transferred by way of Bordentown and Monmouth Junction. The accident was caused by the axle of one of the freightcars breaking and throwing it across the main track. The limited received a signal to stop, but could not do so in time to avoid the crash.

As soon as Engineer Dan Mahoney saw the signal he reversed his engine and whistled down breaks. This caused the passengers, by orders of the brakeman, to rush to the rear cars. Mahoney and his fireman, Henry Matthews, jumped from the engine and were severely hurt. On board the train were said to be Archbishop Corrigan, Comptroller Myers and General Horace F. Porter. They and the greater number of the passengers were taken back to Philadelphia.

JUMPED THE TRACK.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 26.—Four men were killed in a wreck on the Pennsylvania railroad in this city at 6 o'clock yesterday evening almost on the spot where the Dock street horror occurred in June, 1892. A loaded freight train going east was boarded at Market street by five men, who got into a coal car. Two squares away the coal car jumped the track at a switch and half a dozen cars were tilted on end and crashed into a westbound train of empty cars. The car in which the men were sitting was hurled into the middle of the grinding mass, and four were instantly killed and one injured.

It is almost impossible to identify three of the dead owing to their being crushed out of recognition. The fourth is known to be Richard Doyle of Pittsburgh, a railroader out of work. Two of them were boilermakers and the fourth a switchman. They were well dressed, and the man who was injured says they came from Illinois or Ohio and had families.

Frank Wall of Burlington, Ia., was the only man who escaped. He says that Frederick Gimmell was one of the men killed. They were all bound for Philadelphia.

Ten cars loaded with oil and lumber were wrecked and the contents destroyed, and six empty cars were smashed.

ONE DOWN IN TEXAS.

California Express Wrecked at Stella Station, Near Houston.

HOUSTON, Oct. 26.—At Stella Station, eight miles from here, the eastbound local freight was sidetracked. The westbound California express came flying along at a 30-mile-per-hour gait. The engine and 10 cars passed safely, but the 11th car jumped the track by the other cars. They struck the eastbound engine with terrific force, badly wrecking it. How the engineer and fireman escaped even slight injury is a mystery as the engine, besides being smashed, was covered with debris.

Two unknown tramps were killed outright. John Door of Luling was also killed. G. Colbert had his leg and shoulder broken and received internal injuries which will probably result fatally. A man who claims to be from Omaha, but refuses to divulge his name, is also badly injured. Conductor Platt was thrown through a barbed wire fence and was badly cut.

BATTLE CREEK WRECK.

Santa Fe Trouble Settled.

EMPORIA, Kan., Oct. 26.—All talk here of a strike on the Santa Fe among the employees because of back pay due them is now ended. The committee appointed to represent the men at the conference with General Manager Frey has returned with an agreement signed by both sides. It was wired to all the lodges on the Santa Fe system, and has generally been accepted.

Mine Accident.

MONMOUTH, Ill., Oct. 26.—An accident occurred at Martin's coal bank near here yesterday in which M. C. Southern, Oscar Lockmiller and George Smith received injuries which will probably prove fatal in each case. The men were in a cage which had just been pulled up the shaft and as they were about to step onto the rope broke, letting them fall 40 feet.

KNOWLEDGE

Brings comfort and improvement and tends to personal enjoyment when rightly used. The many, who live better than others and enjoy life more, with less expenditure, by more promptly adapting the world's best products to the needs of physical being, will attest the value to health of the pure liquid laxative principles embraced in the remedy, Syrup of Figs.

Its excellence is due to its presenting in the form most acceptable and pleasant to the taste, the refreshing and truly beneficial properties of a perfect laxative; effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds, headaches and fevers and permanently curing constipation. It has given satisfaction to millions and met with the approval of the medical profession, because it acts on the Kidneys, Liver and Bowels without weakening them and it is perfectly free from every objectionable substance.

Syrup of Figs is for sale by all druggists in 50c and $1 bottles, but it is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only, whose name is printed on every package, also the name, Syrup of Figs, and being well informed, you will not accept any substitute if offered.
